D. Research and development

M31 Technology Corporation's research and development this year can be divided into the following two main product lines:

- Functional IP: M31 has two existing categories: the high-speed interface IP and analog IP. Among the high-speed interface IP, PCIe, USB, MIPI, SerDes PHY have been developed on a series of 12nm, 16nm, 22nm and 28nm advanced process platforms, and the first 7nm eUSB2 PHY has been launched this year, and has been certified and adopted by the US major manufacturers. The latest high-end versions of USB4.0, PCIe5.0, and MIPI M-PHY4.0 have also completed the design phase, and the future layout of advanced processes and high-end applications are becoming more mature and complete. Besides, analog IP, including ADC, PLL, PVT Sensor, etc. have been completed 22nm and 28nm design, and into the 12nm and 16nm development. Functional IP products are used in various applications, such as smartphones, cloud storage, automotive electronics, artificial intelligence, network communication, IoT, and wearable devices.

- Foundation IP: We have three existing categories: Standard Cell, I/O, and Memory Compiler. This year, we have completed a special process of 28nm High-Voltage for OLED driver, 28nm embedded Flash for automotive/industrial microcontroller, and 90nm BCD+ for power management IC. In addition to the special process, we have also completed various fundamental IPs for the 22nm and 28nm logic process, which are mainly used in the design of mid-range and high-end consumer electronic products and have been adopted by many international IC design majors.

By the end of 2020, M31 Technology has developed over 260 sets of fundamental IP and over 180 sets of high speed interface IP and analog IP, about half of which are for TSMC process platforms and 1/3 of which are for 28nm and below advanced process technologies.

2. Business Plan Outline for 2021

A. Current year's Operating Policy

In the era of 5G big data, high frequency and high speed are the future trends of design and application. In order to keep up with the new industry trends, M31 continues to deploy more advanced process IP, leading-edge technology applications, and more diversified products and services to deepen its innovation and technology capabilities and actively expands its physical IP development cooperation with major global foundries and IC design houses to continue to provide high-performance silicon solutions for the global semiconductor industry, and continuously inject new revenue growth momentum. M31 Technology will continue to maintain a positive growth target in 2021.

B. Growth and Sales Expectation

The future of semiconductor industry is driven by 5G, AI, high-speed computing, etc. The development trend is based on big data. According to the market research report, the global IP market will grow at a CAGR (compound annual growth rate) of 6~10%, and the CAGR of high-speed transmission interface is as high as 14~15%. M31 Technology continues to focus on the industry trend of high frequency and high speed, advanced process technology and leading edge technology in R&D and sales. With more complete product layout and improved product performance, the overall sales volume and value are expected to exceed 2020 in 2021, and the annual growth continues to rise.

C. Production and Marketing

M31 Technology's main markets are Mainland China, the United States, and Taiwan. However, the IP needs of customers in these three regions are slightly different.

Mainland China: Semiconductor is a national strategic industry, including IC production and design. New foundries and IC design companies are rapidly increasing, with a wide range of end products covering high, medium, and low end applications. In addition to the demand for advanced logic process high speed transmission such as CPU, networking, AI, 5G Station, etc., there is also a huge market for special process power ICs, display driver ICs, and microcontroller ICs. The overall design and marketing strategy is a comprehensive IP product layout.

United States: Customer IP demand has mostly moved into high-end applications such as mobile computing, artificial intelligence, high-end storage, and cloud servers, with marketing strategies focused on advanced processes and high-speed computing transmission products and services.

Taiwan : In addition to TSMC's new process fundamental IP development, Taiwan's IC design mostly belongs to consumer electronics, logic process technology locked in 22nm, 28nm and 40nm, special process, HV for LCD, LED, OLED driver IC, BCD for Power IC, e-Flash for MCU, is also an important application market for Taiwan's design houses.

3. Future Development Strategies

The overall development strategy can be broken down into breadth, depth, and integration:

- Breadth

Expanding product lines and services is a direct way to increase revenue. We will develop and design new product lines with different types and specifications according to the market demand and trend of Interface IP, Memory IP, and Analog IP. In addition, we will utilize our existing resources to expand the scope and content of our custom IP services to maximize the benefits for both our customers and M31 Technologies.

- Depth

Continuing to advance to more advanced processes is a demonstration of R&D capability, especially for physical IP, and the integration of fab process technology is an indicator of competitiveness and profitability. Below 10nm (7nm, 5nm, 4nm and 3nm) is the new blue ocean market for chip leaders; 12nm~16nm is an important technology platform for high speed computing applications; 22nm and 28nm is the manufacturing process for mid to high end consumer ICs to optimize cost and performance. These three process technology platforms are the focus of M31's long-term growth.

- Integration

M31 Technology is currently focusing on four types of IP products (Foundation IP, Interface IP, Memory IP and Analog IP), and with the progress of the development of each product, the logic process of 22nm and 28nm has been designed and validated, and formed a Platform IP that can integrate a variety of IP solutions. In addition to providing customers with multiple choices and convenience, can also increase the penetration rate of IP within ICs. In the future, we will continue to build more Platform IPs in more advanced processes (12nm and 16nm) to integrate a more complete IP portfolio.

4. External Competitive, Regulatory, and Overall Business Environment.

In order to enhance our overall competitiveness, M31 Technology is committed to differentiate its basic product specifications, product and service quality, expand its product line and service content, and actively enhance its international brand image to meet the competition and challenges from international manufacturers. On the other hand, M31 Technology complies with the relevant laws and regulations for listed companies and pays attention to the operational risks arising from interest rates and exchange rates in order to create maximum benefits for shareholders.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors and Shareholders

M31 Technology Corporation

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of M31 Technology Corporation and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the "Group"), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 are stated as follows:

Risk of Improper Recognition of Technical Service Revenue

The Group's major revenue source is derived from the technical service income and royalty income received from offering silicon intellectual property (SIP) service.

The recognition of revenue from technical services is based on the terms of each contract. Since the terms of each contract are different, there is a risk that revenue may be recognized before the contractual obligations are fulfilled.

Due to the fact that these transactions involve manual control, there is a risk that revenue will be recognized if the contractual obligations are not fulfilled due to errors. Therefore, we list the recognition of technical service revenue as a key audit matter. Please refer to Note 4, point 10, for relevant accounting policies.

We exercise audit processes as below towards the aforementioned risk of improper recognition of technical service revenue:

1. Understand the design and operating effectiveness of the Group's internal control systems relevant to the recognition of technical service revenue contracts.
2. Sample the technical service revenue contracts recognized in 2020, checking relevant documents and receivable collections, reviewing critical contract provisions, for the purpose of ensuring the proper timing of revenue recognition.
3. Sample the technical service revenue contracts recognized in a period before/after the balance sheet dates to perform the cut-off test, for the purpose of ensuring proper satisfaction of performance obligations and revenue recognition prior to the balance sheet dates.

Other Matter

We have also audited the parent company only financial statements of M31 Technology Corporation as of and for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019 on which we have issued an unmodified opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and IFRS, IAS, IFRIC and SIC endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Yu-Feng Huang and Mei-Chen Tsai.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors and Shareholders

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying parent company only financial statements of M31 Technology Corporation (the "Company"), which comprise the parent company only balance sheet as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the parent company only statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the notes to the parent company only financial statement, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying parent company only financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the parent company only financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the parent company only financial performance and the parent company only cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent Company Only Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the parent company only financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 are stated as follows:

Risk of Improper Recognition of Technical Service Revenue

The Company's major revenue source is derived from the technical service income and royalty income received from offering silicon intellectual property (SIP) service.

The recognition of revenue from technical services is based on the terms of each contract. Since the terms of each contract are different, there is a risk that revenue may be recognized before the contractual obligations are fulfilled.

Due to the fact that these transactions involve manual control, there is a risk that revenue will be recognized if the contractual obligations are not fulfilled due to errors. Therefore, we list the recognition of technical service revenue as a key audit matter. Please refer to Note 4, point 10, for relevant accounting policies.

We exercise audit processes as below towards the aforementioned risk of improper recognition of technical service revenue:

1. Understand the design and operating effectiveness of the Company's internal control systems relevant to the recognition of technical service revenue contracts.
2. Sample the technical service revenue contracts recognized in 2020, checking relevant documents and receivable collections, reviewing critical contract provisions, for the purpose of ensuring the proper timing of revenue recognition.
3. Sample the technical service revenue contracts recognized in a period before/after the balance sheet dates to perform the cut-off test, for the purpose of ensuring proper satisfaction of performance obligations and revenue recognition prior to the balance sheet dates.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Parent Company Only Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the parent company only financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of parent company only financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company only financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent Company Only Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent company only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the parent company only financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company only financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the parent company only financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Company to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Yu-Feng Huang and Mei-Chen Tsai.

However, for managers and Directors also serving as employees, their quantities shall be approved by the Compensation Committee and the Board of Directors.

A. Estimated amount recognized as expense

The Company currently has 31,107,000 shares outstanding. The maximum number of new shares outstanding for RSA is 400,000 shares, which accounts for 1.29% of the total number of issued shares. When calculated using the price of NT$350 (average closing price of NT$352.50 in January 2021 and closing price of NT$337.50 on February 19, 2021), the maximum amount to be recognized as expense during the vesting period is NT$100,000 thousand with 400,000 new shares issued. If the issuance is carried out in August 2021, the expenses estimated for 2021 to 2024 are NT$17,361 thousand, NT$41,667 thousand, NT$31,250 thousand, and NT$9,722 thousand, respectively.

B. Dilution effect on EPS

When calculated based on the three years of vesting period plus the current number of outstanding shares, the impact on the reduction of EPS from 2021 to 2024 is approximately of NT$0.56, NT$1.34, NT$1.00 and NT$0.31, respectively.

C. Other effects on shareholders' equity

However, upon an overall assessment, the Company expects an upward trend for future revenue and profitability. Thus, the amount recognized as expenses every year has no significant impact on shareholders' equity.

6. Restrictions on the rights of new shares of unvested RSAs after being granted to or subscribed by employees:

After receiving new shares for RSA, if employees fail to meet the vesting conditions, the unvested RSAs (including stock dividends received and other related rights) will be reclaimed with issue price and cancelled by the Company. 3. A shareholder intending to exercise voting rights by correspondence or electronic means under the preceding paragraph shall deliver a written declaration of intent to the Company 2 days before the date of the Shareholders' Meeting. When duplicate declarations of intent are delivered, the one received earliest shall prevail, except when a declaration is made to cancel the earlier declaration of intent. If the notice of retraction is submitted after that time, the voting rights already exercised by correspondence or electronic means shall prevail. When a shareholder has exercised voting rights both by correspondence or electronic means and by appointing a proxy to attend a Shareholders' Meeting, the voting rights exercised by the proxy in the meeting shall prevail.

4. Except as otherwise provided in the Company Act and in the Company's Articles of Incorporation, the passage of a proposal shall require an affirmative vote of a majority of the voting rights represented by the attending shareholders. During a vote, for each proposal, the chair or a person designated by the chair shall first announce the total number of voting rights represented by the attending shareholders, followed by a poll of the shareholders. After the conclusion of the meeting, on the same day it is held, the results for each proposal, based on the numbers of votes for and against and the number of abstentions, shall be entered into the MOPS.
5. When there is an amendment or an alternative to a proposal, the chair shall present the amended or alternative proposal together with the original proposal and decide the order in which they will be put to a vote.
